ALL WOMEN

Wine of Cardui is the guardian of a woman's health and happiness from youth to old age. It helps her safely into womanhood.
It sustains her during the trials of pregnancy, childbirth and motherhood, making labor easy and preventing flooding and miscarriage. It gently leads her through the dangerous period known as the change of life.

WINE OF CARDUI

cures leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, and menstrual irregularity in every form. It is valuable in every trying period of a woman's life. It reinforces the nervous system, acts directly on the genital organs and is the finest tonic for women known. Ask your druggist for a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

THE STOLEN BRACELET

The pride of Mrs. Lester's heart was vested in her diamonds. Without these diamonds, Mrs. Lester often remarked, she would feel like nobody. Consequently when Miss Arabella Tiptop espoused Mr. Augustus Hightlyer, and the pair gave their grand reception prior to their European tour, Mrs. Lester donned her jewels and in gala attire proceeded to make her call. It was a formal affair and soon over, and Mrs. Lester returned home anticipating no change in her domestic arrangements, but to her surprise the moment she entered the hall her eye encountered, perched on the two hall chairs, a mammoth valise of dingy yellow and a large basket with two handles.

"What are those, Bridget?" she said faintly. Bridget tittered.
"They're luggage, mum," she said. "You've got company, an old gentleman and an old lady. They're in the back parlor, and they bid me say nothin', because they'd like to give you a pleasant surprise."
"A pleasant surprise?" muttered Mrs. Lester, and with anything but a happy expression on her countenance she sailed toward the back parlor.

There on either side of the fire-sat an old lady and gentleman, certainly very clean and tidy and perfectly respectable, but with a little pretense to fashion as Noah and his wife.

Mrs. Lester summoned up a smile.
"Aunt and Uncle Trotters, I declare," she said.

"I knowed you'd be astonished,"

said the old lady.

"Well, how are you both?" said

Mrs. Lester.

"Oh, we're middlin'," said the old lady. "But Aunt Jenkins, she's had the mumps a year, poor soul, and Tom's children have got the whoop-

in' cough awful, and Sary's boy tumbled off the barn, where he hadn't no business to be, and put his shoulder out, and Pete Brown, he's lost three cows and a calf and half his chickens."

After this remark there was a pause. The old gentleman broke it:

"When a thing has got to be got over, it's best done. You won't be offended, I hope, Augusta?"

"At what?" asked Mrs. Lester.

"You see, 'twas better'n not comin' at all, but we've got to run away right after tea. My wife says,

'Lor', 'Timothy, what will Gusty and her parden think of us after not bein' to see 'em for a year?' Says I:

'She'll excuse us, seein' we hain't no time, but have got to go by the night train. Next time,' says I,

'we'll stay a week.' Now, you ain't offended?"

Mrs. Lester rang the bell.

"Take my cloak and bonnet up stairs," she said to the girl, "and tell cook to have dinner early."

Then Mrs. Lester smiled and sat down in all her splendor before the fire to listen to accounts of the Smiths' pigs and Brown's cow and how Sally Spriggs' help stole the best tablecloth until a well known ring at the bell announced Mr. Lester. Thereupon his lady for once played the affectionate wife and ran to meet him.

"Aunt and Uncle Trotters are here," she said.

Mr. Lester scowled.

"Gracious heavens!" he ejaculat-

ed. "And the Atwoods are coming to spend the evening with us. They are stopping at the Fifth Avenue hotel for a few days."

"Uncle and aunt are going immediately after dinner," said Mrs. Lester, "and fortunately I've ordered it early. Don't be cross, George, for you know they haven't chick or child and for all their shabbiness

are very well off."

As far as an early dinner went

Mrs. Lester did her part, but the Trotters were slow going folk.

When at last the bonnet strings

were tied and the gloves on, Aunt

Trotters bethought her of a new cause for delay.

"Poor Aunt Jenkins will never forgive us if we don't take a letter from you," she said. "Jest set down, Gusty, and write a line."

Mrs. Lester smiled down her infor an envelope and returned to write the address, all with as much speed as was consistent with gentleness, and finally had the pleasure of receiving a parting salute from the Trotters in the hall.

In a moment more Mrs. Lester rolled back the sliding doors and welcomed her fashionable guests.
There was no vulgar sociability, no warming up. Everything was cold and formal. In due season the waiter brought in wine and cake, and the party nibbled and sipped a little. Mrs. Lester played a waltz;
the rest said, "Charming." Mrs.
Atwood sang; her friends remarked, "Lovely, indeed."

Then Mrs. Atwood "really must go," and the Lesters "must be sure to spend an evening with us," and adieux were said and the guests departed, and Mrs. Lester came to the fire yawning behind her handkerchief. As she lifted her arm Mr.
Lester uttered an ejaculation.

"Where is your bracelet, Augusta?"

"My bracelet? Oh, how stupid I am!" cried Mrs. Lester. "I took it off to write to that tiresome Aunt

Jenkins and left it on the table in the back parlor."

And she arose to find it. In a moment she called out:

"George, the bracelet's gone!"

The gentleman came to her aid.

They searched the floor, the whole room, both rooms, all in vain. The bracelet was gone.

"It has been stolen," said Mrs.

Lester.

"One of the servants must have

it," said Mr. Lester.

"Mr. Lester rang the bell.

"Sam, send all the servants here and come yourself."

In five minutes the kitchen cabinet appeared, looking as though a storm were brewing.

Mr. Lester arose to address them.

"I have something very serious to say," he said. "I address everybody

but cook. Cook has not been up stairs and cannot be suspected. A bracelet has been lost," said Mr.

Lester, clearing his throat; "a diamond bracelet. All of you have been in the back parlor, where it

CITY TRUSTEES MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Trustees was held last Wednesday evening, with the following Trustees present: Messrs. J. E. Poppe, Geo. Breitenbach, G. H. Hotz, A. Pinelli and S. Ciucci. The minutes of the last regular and special meeting of May 13th were read and approved, after which the following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

Mrs. A. Bates for Woman's Club work on Plaza, $30; Jas. H. Albertson, salary, $15; W. T. Rutledge, electric light, $25.50; C. Facchini, labor, $15.

On motion of Trustee Breitenbach, which received a second from Trustee Pinelli, Louis Breitenbach was appointed Sexton of Mountain Cemetery to serve for one year from July 1st, 1902.

A petition was presented by Mrs. Susie Enos, who appeared before the Board in person, requesting the appointment of a Board of Health.

On motion the matter was laid over to an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday evening, June 14th.

A petition was presented by W. T. Rutledge, lessee of Sonoma Electric Light Company's plant, praying the Trustees to renew the old contract with him to furnish light to the city as heretofore for $50 per month.

Thereupon Trustee Hotz made a motion, which was seconded by Trustee Ciucci, that the Breitenbach resolution, offering $25 per month for street lights, passed at the last meeting of the Board, be rescinded.

Trustee Breitenbach demanded a roll call and the motion to rescind was defeated by the following vote: Trustee Breitenbach—No. Trustee Ciucci—Yes. Trustee Hotz—Yes. Trustee Pinelli—Not voting. President Poppe—No.

The motion was declared lost and the electric light proposition went a glimmering.

Clerk Small was instructed to communicate with Supervisor Hart and the California Northwestern Railway Company regarding the expenses incurred in caring for Joaquin Hansen, an indigent, who was run over by a railway train several months ago and received injuries which subsequently caused his death.

On motion of Trustee Hotz, seconded by Trustee Breitenbach, the Plaza Committee was instructed to act in conjunction with the Woman's Club in regard to having the grass removed from the Plaza.

The Street Committee was instructed to make arrangements with Mr. Pinder in regard to surplus water on Second street East. That committee was also authorized to have the culvert on England street repaired. In regard to covering the ditch alongside the Union Hotel the same committee was given full power to act.

On motion the Trustees adjourned to meet on Saturday evening, June 14th.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES.

Get Diplomas—An Excellent Program, Papers, Music and Dancing.

The graduating exercises of the High School took place last night at Union Hall amid a scene of unusual brilliancy.

Union Hall never looked prettier than it did on this occasion with the garlands of evergreen, banks of live oak, fern and spruce, showy flowers and the gold and white class colors.

Above the stage hung the inscription "Class of 1902," done in bright marigolds. Beneath it were flowers and ferns, trailing vines and Old Glory for a background.

Into this scene of beauty and before a large assemblage of friends and relatives the young graduates entered to say farewell to their Alma Mater. Here, too, were seated the Trustees of the school, the teachers and other speakers.

Misses Bertha McGimsey, Anita Emparan and Ruth McQuiddy, the pretty girl graduates, were becomingly gowned in fluffy, snowy white dresses and looked very pretty and sweet as they sat with their bright looking fellow students amid the artistic floral surround-

GRANDPA'S HEALTH.

An Important Factor in the Happiness of His Grandchildren.

There are families where Grandpa's visit is looked forward to with delight and expectancy. Grandpa's coming means fun and frolic and enchanting stories. But there are other families where Grandpa's visit is the burden of the year. The children dread it because they know it will put a stop to their romping. The parents dread it because it will disorganize the household, every member of which must keep step with the slow shuffling tread of age, and subordinate duties and pleasures to the capricious whims of second childhood. The difference in these two old men is simply a difference of health. The one old man is hale and hearty, enjoys his food, sleeps soundly, and keeps his grip on public affairs. The other old man is weak and feeble, his appetite and digestion are poor, his sleep is unsteady, he has no interest in life or affairs save as his personal comfort may be affected.

Healthy old age, whether in man or woman, is largely a question of sound stomach and pure, rich blood. To preserve this condition nature generally needs some assistance, in order to get rid of the accumulations of waste, effete and poisonous substances which tend to clog the body and impede the circulation. It is also needful to keep the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts in a healthy condition, in order to properly nourish the body.

HEALTH IN OLD AGE

can, therefore, best be enjoyed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food upon which physical strength depends. It cleanses the blood of clogging and poisonous matter, and by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands, increases the supply of pure, rich blood, which is the final form of nutrition and the life of the whole physical man.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me; could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since. I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

STRENGTH AND THE STOMACH.

No man can be strong when the stomach is "weak." The body, and every organ of it, depends upon the stomach for nutrition. This nutrition is supplied before it can be assimilated. When the food which must be properly digested before it can be assimilated, when the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the food eaten is imperfectly digested, and there is a reduction of the nutrition necessary for the sustenance of the body. This loss of nutrition soon shows itself in general feebleness or in the "weakness" of one or more of the organs most affected. The result is that indigestion often results in disease of organs remote from the stomach, the liver, heart, kidneys, etc., become "weak." So, also, when the diseased stomach is cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" the diseases of other organs which were caused by the diseased stomach are also cured.

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Hamburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head, heart beat too fast, my feet and hands were cold all the time; did not sleep well at all; was able to go about very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets,' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing my work ever since, except washing. Feel better than I have for several years. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who are troubled as I was. I am now sixty-one years old, and I thank you most kindly for the happy relief and cure."

GOOD ADVICE.

If you feel weak and run down, if your stomach is disordered or diseased, if there is heart "trouble," liver "trouble," or kidney "trouble," if your blood is "thin" and sluggish, begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you will begin to renew your youth and strength.

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Some dealers, tempted by the little more profit paid by less meritorious medicines, will attempt to sell a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," claiming it to be "just as good." The very claim makes substitution suspicious. A medicine as good as the "Discovery" would sell on its own merits and be asked for by the customer, not pushed off on him.

DO YOU KNOW THIS?

One of the best medical books ever published, the most modern and comprehensive, is given away to those who write for it. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing more than a thousand large pages and over 700 illustrations, in sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SONOMA, JUNE 7, 1902.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

MRS. WILGUS GETS HER DIVORCE. Bond Severed Which Tied Her to a Man Unworthy of Her.

Mrs. Lola M. Wilgus has been granted a divorce in the Superior Court of this county from her husband Col. L. D. Wilgus, who is serving out a sentence of one year for forgery in the Sacramento County Jail.

Mrs. Wilgus came out from Pennsylvania several months ago to be divorced from a man who long since sacrificed a once noble manhood on the altar of Bacchus.

Col. Wilgus, after his wife had left him for her girlhood's home in Pennsylvania about ten years ago, drifted from this place to Sacramento where he married, or assumed to marry, another woman, by whom he has had two children.

This fact came out when he was arrested and tried for forgery some months ago, an account of which appeared in these columns, and attracted Mrs. Wilgus' attention. It was then she left Pennsylvania for California to institute the proceedings which has freed her from a man who failed to appreciate true womanly worth and who has proved in every way unworthy of her.

Pending the divorce proceedings Mrs. Wilgus has been the guest of Mrs. R. J. Snyder of this place, who has been her friend and sympathizer all through her domestic troubles.

Dr. McLaughlin's Horse Wins a Race.

Dr. Alf. McLaughlin, who was born and raised in this valley but who is now a successful physician in San Francisco, always had a penchant for jack rabbit hunts and fast horses. His dignity long since caused him to give up the former sport but his success as a physician has enabled him to gratify his desire for good trotters and he is the owner of several fine roadsters. On Friday of last week, Bondy C. one of his horses, won the 2:40 trot at the races given in Oakland by the Golden Gate Driving Club, of which he is a member. This club will have a meet on the Petaluma race course July 4th.

CHILD ON THE TRACK.

Narrowly Escapes Death From an On-Rushing Train.

Last Sunday afternoon as Misses Helen and Eva Church were on their way to Schellville their attention was attracted as they neared the Southern Pacific crossing at that station to a white object flitting on the track.

They could not at first make out what the object was, but hearing a rapidly moving train approaching from their right and hastening toward the spot were horrified to see lying across the rails a child. The little fellow, with his head resting on one arm, was fast asleep and entirely oblivious to the approaching danger.

The young ladies tried to arouse him, but he was slow to awake and as the train was by this time almost upon him, they dragged the little fellow off the track, and none too soon to prevent him from being ground to death under the wheels of the ponderous engine.

The train rushed by with a roar and when all danger had passed the little chap opened his eyes and began to call for his mamma. He proved to be Louis Bosch, who had wandered away from his home near by and for whom his parents had been hunting high and low all the afternoon.

The distracted mother was profuse in her thanks to the young ladies for saving her child and her gratitude knew no bounds for their heroic action.

THE COOK SKIPPED.

Landlord, Wilde Has an Experience.

Mine host Wilde of the Union Hotel, like all landlords, has his troubles but like a sensible man he tells them to the policeman, as everybody else has troubles of their own. That is why he poured forth his sorrows in the ear of Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan last Wednesday morning. It was all about a new cook that had been employed by Mr. Wilde only the day before.

The new chef went to work all right and proved an adept in the culinary art. But on the following morning he skipped out at a very unseasonable hour and thereby hangs the tale that was told to the Deputy Sheriff as he "smoked" one of those characteristic bland smiles while beaming down on Mr. Wilde.

The new cook was non est and so was divers spoons, knives, forks and other dining room paraphernalia. Upon discovering that his chef had levanted after looting the dining room Mr. Wilde set his second cook to work to look after the inner man of his guests and securing the services of officer Ryan attempted to run the ruffian down. He was traced in the direction of Schellville but managed to elude the officer for the time being.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan has a good description of the rascal and the offender will no doubt be overhauled in due course of time, as few offenders escape the clutches of Sheriff Grace and his deputies.

RAILWAY RUMORS.

Is the S. P. Company to Absorb the California Northwestern?

Railway rumors, like Banquo's ghost, will not down. They are again floating in the air. Ever since President Harriman of the Southern Pacific Company passed over the main line of the California Northwestern in President Foster's private car, a few weeks ago, it has been mooted in railway circles that there is to be a complete change in the railway service in Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties.

Rumor has it that the Southern Pacific is negotiating for the purchase of the California Northwestern railway with fair prospects of securing what is considered among railroad men as being the best paying short-line railway system in the United States.

Should the Southern Pacific become the owner of the California Northwestern there would be many changes made in this valley. At the present time these two railroads parallel each other from Schellville to Glen Ellen. The question that now arises is this: In the event of the Southern Pacific buying out the California Northwestern which of these parallel roads will be abandoned? For surely both could not be operated with profit by the one company. One of these two lines would have to go. That is dead certain. But which one? "Aye, there's the rub."

In the event of the proposed change becoming a reality the question will be up to the people of Sonoma. Should the Southern Pacific abandon its road from Schellville to Glen Ellen the town of El Verano would be left in the lurch. If, on the contrary, the California Northwestern's line through the valley should be forsaken then Sonoma would be left out in the cold. The latter contingency seems improbable, however, owing to the town being the center of population. But there is no telling what these railroad fellows may do. They will certainly consult their own interests in this matter.

Can the same be said of the people of Sonoma, some of whom to gratify a personal spite are just now endeavoring to unjustly kill its local electric light company, an improvement given to the town by eight of its public-spirited citizens who have yet to see their first dividend. But that is Sonoma's way. It is safe to assume that if the light goes and the proposed railroad deal is consummated the railroad will go with it. Now what are the people of Sonoma going to do about it?

DEATH OF "CAP" JOY.

Passed Calmly Away Last Wednesday Morning.

Frederick Joy, familiarly known as "Cap," died in this place last Wednesday morning at 1:45 o'clock. He literally "died in harness," as he worked up to the very day of his death in the Union Livery Stables, where he had been employed for the past seven years.

The deceased came to this valley about ten years ago to take charge of millionaire Wm. Graves' ranch in the southern suburbs of town. After the death of Graves he lost his position and later on went to work in the Union Stables as a bus driver to and from the railway stations in this place and El Verano.

The deceased had no known relatives and was very reticent about his past life. He was a man who certainly had seen better days before coming to this valley. He was well educated and showed traces of gentle breeding. Rumor has it that he was a relative of millionaire Graves. He was cut off without a dollar, however, and Graves' entire fortune went to his two children in England.

Mr. Joy was a native of New York and aged 66 years.

ARBITRARY AND UNJUST.

Geo. Breitenbach and J. E. Poppe Slap the People of Sonoma In the Face and Virtually Say You Have No Rights Which We are Bound to Respect.

The municipal control of Sonoma has passed into unjust hands and it behooves the taxpayers and property-owners of the town to stand together to protect their interests which are being menaced by City Trustees J. E. Poppe and Geo. Breitenbach, who have arrogated to themselves the power to override the other three Trustees, Messrs. Hotz, Ciucci and Pinelli, and thwart the will of the taxpayers and property-owners of Sonoma.

At the regular monthly meeting of the City Trustees, held last Wednesday night, a petition was presented to the Trustees praying that the street light service be maintained for another year at a rental of $50 per month. Although the petition contained the names of eighty signers, embracing the wealth and influence of the town—men and women who pay into the city treasury most of the tax money which goes to maintain its local government—the petition and its signers were brutally turned down by Trustees Julius Poppe and Geo. Breitenbach, who represent nothing but spite and venom against the true business interests of Sonoma. Let it be said to the credit of Trustees G. H. Hotz and S. Ciucci that they did all they could do to protect the interests of the whole people in this matter, but were powerless to prevent the consummation of a plot to shut down our local electric light company's plant and relegate the town to darkness and despair.

Here are the names of the property-owners—eighty of them—whom Trustees Geo. Breitenbach and Julius E. Poppe sat down upon last Wednesday night:

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Geo. Cole Has an Index Finger Stripped to the Bone.

Geo. Cole, the well-known carpenter, who has the contract for removing a couple of small cottages on Spain street belonging to John Lounibos, met with a painful accident last Monday. While in the act of putting a block under one of the cottages the lever broke and the index finger of the left hand became wedged in between one of the joists of the building and the block underneath. The flesh was entirely stripped from the first joint of the digit, leaving nothing but the bone. His hurt was attended to by a surgeon and he was enabled to return to his work of superintending the removal of the building but will not have the use of his left hand for several weeks.

Dr. H. H. Davis, resident physician at the California Home, Eldridge, was in town Wednesday.

MEDIAEVAL PREACHING.

Sermons Delivered in the Vernacular and Preserved in Latin.

The Puritans were not, as has been supposed, the inventors of extemporary preaching. The practice was distinctly medieval and was stopped about the time of Elizabeth. As to the language, we meet with difficulties to determine which were in Latin and which in the countless dialects of the day, which so continually fluctuated, both as to the speaking and the writing, that it is a matter of wonder how the missionaries could in many cases have done the work they are credited with, unless we presuppose on the part of the masses a much greater knowledge of Latin than is commonly supposed. This, however, would seem to be probable—namely, that the "sermones ad populum" of the eighth, ninth and tenth centuries were generally delivered in the vernacular and extemporary and afterward translated into Latin either by the orator himself or some hearer.

What will strike the average non-Catholic as so very strange, in view of the current opinion to the opposite, is the almost marvelous grasp of Scripture of the typical medieval preacher, whether we consider the number of quotations, their variety or the interpretation of the same. Neale estimates as ten to one the ratio between a medieval sermon and that of a modern divine as regards the number of texts customarily cited. The contrast is still greater when we turn to the manner of citation, the medieval preacher citing naturally, easily, logically as one saturated with Scripture from its being his own daily spiritual food, the modern ill at ease, tacking on a quotation here and there, often uselessly, altogether with the air of a man who feels rather shaky when treating an unfamiliar subject. The one evidently read the Scriptures, the other only concordance and index—Catholic World.

How He Found Out.

Schoolteachers sometimes ask their pupils queer questions, if one may believe a story told by the youngest member of the Wittington family.

His mother one morning discovered a shortage in her supplies of pies, baked the day before, and her suspicions fell upon Johnny.

"Johnny," she said, "do you know what became of that cherry pie that was on the second shelf in the pantry?"

"Yes, ma'am," he replied. "I ate it. But I had to."

"You had to?" exclaimed his astonished mother. "What do you mean, child?"

"The teacher asked yesterday if any of us could tell how many stones there are in a cherry pie, and I couldn't find out without eating the whole pie, could I? There's just 142."

She Purchased Then.

She wasn't exactly old, but the discriminating observer could see that she hadn't seen the inside of a schoolroom for at least ten years. The shopman threw down piece after piece of fleecy white material before her critical eyes, but none of them seemed to claim her unreserved admiration.

She was taking a great deal of his time, and the silk counter was crowded, so he decided to play his trump card.

Holding up a length of crepe de chine so that it fell in a perfect cat-act of shimmering folds, he remarked reflectively as if to himself alone, "The best thing for graduating purposes we have had in the store this year." The effect was instantaneous, and in another minute the tactful salesman was measuring off a full pattern for his well pleased patron.

Bought Up Offending Organs.

A story is related of the composer Verdi that he did to with organs. One time a friend while visiting him was shown through the composer's home. When the door was opened into one room, it was found to be filled with barrel organs of all sizes and patterns.

"What on earth are you doing with all these?" asked the astonished friend.

"Those are a few that have annoyed me with 'La Misere,' " answered the great artist, "and they will never do so again."

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: "Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup when she was whooping. This remedy is for sale by F. Duhring."

ARE YOU DEAF?

ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF

DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain

Very truly yours,

F. A. WERMAN, 798 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

Examination and advice free.
